Visitors Hamper Firemen's Efforts

Concern has been voiced recently about unauthorized cars being driven to the scene of a fire. Last week such a car almost caused an accident and did slow up one of the volunteer firemen from getting to the scene of a fire in the shortest possible time.

Marvin Fite was on his way to a fire last week when he attempted to pass a car. Marvin reported the other car failed to yield right-of-way and almost crowded him off the highway. The fireman said he did not care to press charges for the act although he remembered the license number of the car.

Local firemen have long maintained that their greatest obstacle in combating fires is unauthorized cars jamming the streets to the scene of the blaze. Firemen may ask law enforcement officials to impose a fine on all unauthorized car drivers appearing at a fire, one of the firemen said.

Milking Shorthorn Field Day Slated at J. A. Strain Farm

Foight Retrial Moves Here

Henry S. Bishop, 47th District Court Judge, last week set the week of April 16 for the retrial of Robert J. "Bob" Foight, to be held in Canyon. Foight is charged with armed robbery in connection with the May, 1952, holdup of the Herring Hotel cashier's office.

Motion for the change of venue was made by court appointed defense attorney E. T. (Dusty) Miller and Branch T. Archer. They assert that it was impossible for them to select a jury in Potter County because of the widespread publicity the case received.

State's attorneys Hermon Pipkin and Dean Watson objected to the change on the grounds that Randall County people read the same papers that Potter County people read.

Judge Bishop allowed the change after 50 veniremen had been questioned and only two selected for jury duty in Amarillo.

Last September Foight was found guilty but sought a retrial on the grounds that his attorneys had been unable to represent him properly. He was sentenced to 30 years in connection with the armed robbery in which $1,300 was taken from the Herring Hotel.

Foight entered a plea of not guilty to the charge by reason of temporary insanity.

Appreciation Lunch Held by the Hills

Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill gave a dinner Sunday at the cafeteria in appreciation of the work of a group of friends who had been of such great assistance to them in building the Memorial Chapel on the campus.

Foster, assisted by a male quartet from the college faculty, composed of Holmes Ambrose, Emmitt Smith, Dr. Crannell Tolliver, Dr. J. B. Roberts. A large number of Canyon people joined in the program enjoyment.

Following this program, the group visited the new Library building which was termed by Dr. James P. Cornette as one of the most beautiful buildings in Texas.

Those who were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hill were Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Mrs. E. D. Harrell, of Canyon; Dr. and Mrs. R. F. McCasland, Dr. Paul Stewart of Tulsa, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Palo Duro Canyon Easter Service Set

John McCarty, concessionaire at Palo Duro Canyon, said yesterday that Sunrise Easter Service in the canyon would be held at 6:29 Easter morning at Crossing No. 1. He said the gates of the park would be open at 5:00 a. m. and those planning to attend should allow plenty of time to drive to the canyon without breaking the speed limit.

Paul McClung of the Dawn Baptist Church will have charge of the services this year. McCarty stated the service was not in the form of a pageant or a play but rather a simple religious worship type of service.

Singing will be provided by the Amarillo Horace Mann Junior High School choir. This is the same group who sang last year.

The concessionaire also added that park attendance was very good this year and that it was continuing to climb.

Veteran Trouper Praises BIT Work

A veteran trouper of Little Theatre said Sunday that she believed those who participated in productions at the Branding Iron Theatre enjoyed more satisfaction than just putting on a play. This thought was voiced by Jane Gallagher, a West Texas State College graduate who won a six weeks scholarship to the University of Oslo in Norway. By the time the six weeks ended Jane was just beginning to like Norway so she got a job and remained in that country two years.

Jane said she felt there was a great amount of satisfaction in the feeling of creation in playing a part on the stage. This, she feels, does a great deal for those appearing in productions. They get the valuable experience that comes with putting themselves in another's place, she explained.

It was 1948 when Jane came to West Texas State College. For the next 18 months she worked with the group who gave the first productions in the Branding Iron Theatre. In Oslo, Norway, she helped form a little theatre. She said the Norway stage shows are run much like the little theatres over here and the star of one production may help move furniture in the next.

Jane's six week scholarship was given by the University of Texas. She said the end of the first six weeks was like pulling the curtain on the first act of a play and she had to see more. So she got a job and remained in Norway nearly two more years.

The first BIT play in which Jane appeared was "Here Comes Mr. Jordan." She worked backstage in "Ladies in Retirement" and appeared in "Ring Around Elizabeth" and "Star Wagon."

At present Jane is working with radio station KGNC in Amarillo. She has worked in Montana and was also connected with the Cleveland, Ohio, Little Theatre for a while. She believes that to be effective a play should cash in on its first burst of enthusiasm.

Cash Drawings Start This Week

The Retail Merchants Committee, headed by Clay Cooper, planned the details of the drawings.

The drawings will be operated on the same order as the weekly drawings just before Christmas. The main difference is that this particular series will be conducted monthly instead of weekly.

Six prizes will be given at each drawing. Tickets for chances at the prizes are given by retail merchants. Each $1.00 in trade is good for one ticket. First prize is $100; the second $50; and the next four prizes are $25 each.

Chamber of Commerce Manager Glenn Waggoner said the first drawing would be held Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Drawings will be held in the same place as usual, at the bandstand on the east side of the square. He also said the winner must be present with the ticket bearing the corresponding number of the stub drawn.

Branchless Trees Colorful Plants Welcome Spring

Trees stripped down like hot rods and various blossoming flowers, bushes and trees marked the entrance of spring on the local scene last week. From the Ross Craig place in the west part of town to the recently added portion in the southeast portion, colorful flowers and plants nod their welcome to spring.

In driving up one street and down the other there are many things to catch your eye. At one place there is a lovely forsythie in brilliant color beside a garden that is still waiting for spring's new colors.

Dotted about town like precious jewels in a huge emerald cluster are orchards and individual fruit trees shimmering with blossoms. In many places lawns are already a dark restful green. Contrasting with this green is that of the evergreens that give a sturdy impression.

Here and there color is added to the lawn scene by the dazzling hyacinths and bright yellow jonquils. In a few places large tulips open artistic petals to add their splash of colorful beauty to spring's welcome.

Girls End Campaign When Supply Is Used

Mrs. E. D. Harrell's car was the first to receive the scotchlite safety tape through the Rainbow Girls' safety campaign that started last Wednesday. After Mrs. Harrell's car was given the "safety treatment for darkness," 17 other cars received the treatment that afternoon.

When the present stock of safety tape is gone the Rainbow Girls plan to discontinue the program, according to Mrs. Bessie Samuelson, Mother Advisor of the Rainbow Girls, who said that about half of the tape supply was gone by noon Monday.

During this time the girls had collected for a total of 121 cars. Some of the cars were still to be brought in for installation of the safety tape. This left them with enough scotchlite for approximately 100 more cars and from the number of cars observed without the tape, they will need it all.

Although the weather was bad for the application of the safety tape Saturday, the girls almost got their goal of 100 cars. In addition to the automobiles they applied the safety tape on the ambulances of the Griggs-Warren Funeral Home.

Proceeds from the scotchlite sale goes to defray expenses for the trip of the Rainbow Girls to Galveston this summer. With the assistance of such projects the girls will lift some of the burden of expenses of their annual summer trip.

Dairy Day Show Will Be Held Here April 9

April 9th is the day set aside as the local Dairy Day in the interest of promoting and improving dairying on the local level. The animals shown at the Dairy Day event will be at the City Barn and the event is sponsored by the Randall County Dairy Association. Louis Henders is president of the organization and Neil Downing is secretary-treasurer.

Waylon Carroll of the high school agriculture department is the superintendent of the show. Yesterday he said that cattle will be judged by the classification method. Both grade and registered stock will be shown.

In connection with the show there will be an adult and junior judging contest. The first judging prize is $5.00; the second is $3.00, and the third is $2.00, it was announced.

Carroll said the judges had not been selected. This selection of judges should be complete in time for release next week, he added. The dairying business is one of the major enterprises in Randall County and every dairy owner should make every effort to have his stock represented in the show. Carroll said that after the showing here the animals would probably be taken directly to the Plainview show.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . .

We are amazed! To be frank about it, we are greatly amazed.

A reader has written The Canyon News asking why our regular feature, "Deals in Dirt," was omitted two weeks ago. Since most of the transfers have come from South Amarillo, we had just about given up hopes that anyone was reading this column.

During the war, when you could get neither help nor newspaper, this feature was dropped, and before we could get it started, along came a mass of real estate transfers, and we very nearly never caught up. At the same time County Clerk Tom Lair and his crew were running months behind with recording, therefore we were between a rock and a hard spot.

We assure one and all that "Deals in Dirt" was not omitted on purpose but was simply crowded out. This happens in all well regulated newspapers at times.

Nearly every week some well wishing soul comes to The News office with the suggestion that a certain article certainly deserves a spot on the front page.

As a matter of fact one page in the paper is just as good as any other page, but no better. When the time comes that the paper has no more intelligent readers than those who scan the front page, and then throw the paper away, we shall either just print a front page edition, or get out of the business entirely.

As a matter of record, many readers tell us that the classified page is the best page in the paper. Others refer to the editorial page. Many have referred to our system of scattered club reports throughout the paper, rather than concentrating them on one page.

It is every person according to his own taste. Some readers like one feature, while others like another kind of material.

Let us assure you that the weekly issue of The Canyon News may best be described as a house, and every page is a room in that house.

We try to have every page well furnished, well lighted . . . the kind of room you like to stay in and look around.

The first page is the front porch or the front room. In short, it is the introduction to the rest of the house. Through it you move to the living room, the dining room, the kitchen . . . where people spend most of the time.

Sometimes some friend will say, "My item didn't make the front page." What of it? Most likely it was on one of the "living room pages" with the folks. That's a good place to be, too!

We have been wondering.

Will television be the instrument to bring about an industrial revolution in America?

We have passed through various ages and periods during past years when different manufacturing items brought about economic changes, or revolution.

We had the railroad era; the steamship era; the telephone era; the automobile era; the radio era.

Just now there are more than 50 makes of TV on the market. Every manufacturing plant which is capable of making sets has engaged in its production. Newspapers are filled with TV advertising; the big radio stations have added TV; the people are TV conscious.

It may be that this will be another fluke, since TV will come into such a highly competitive field of communication. It will find strong competition in the entertainment field.

All in all these are hectic days ahead, great days for the manufacturers.

After holding down federal jobs for 20 years, naturally Democrats are becoming alarmed at the manner in which they are being turned out in favor of Eisenhower supporters. The Democratic howl is that good Democrats are being turned out, because of past loyalty to the party, and replaced by lesser qualified Republicans.

That is a good argument, whether true or not. But let it be remembered that Republicans who were kicked out of office when FDR became president 20 years ago raised the same protest.

If you remember, our prediction of a few months ago, you will recall that we called the GOP shots exactly as they turned out. We said that the GOP leaders would not be satisfied so long as any Democrat remained in public office. This prediction is turning out to be true.

If you are a Democrat holding a federal appointment, better start looking around for a feather bed on which to light. GOP will get you, before long.

Our hand was called on a story printed in the last issue of The News.

Because the word "Free" was omitted from a headline on the front page when we stated that the "Inspector Approves City Mail Delivery." The word "free" should have been inserted in the statement, "Free City Mail Delivery."

As a matter of record let us say that the word "free" was omitted simply because it was too long to go into the space set aside for the story. That is one of the funny things about type—it will not shrink or stretch to suit the fancy of the headline writer.

However, let us remind you that there is no such a thing as "free," so far as the federal government is concerned. Someone must pay the bill. If the income for any project exceeds the outgo, the taxpayer is tapped for the difference. The taxpayer is always the fall guy when it comes to meeting the expenses of government.

The inspector who recommended that city delivery be established in Canyon estimated that the cost would be about $12,350, while the additional income would amount to only $2,000. Who will pay the additional $10,000 expense?

You, and me, and the other taxpayers of the nation. The word "free" would be a gross misnomer.

Of course we argue that if we don't spend the money, that it will be wasted some place along the line in the course of government. The idea that $10,000 per year is mere peanuts so far as Uncle Sam is concerned is all well and good, but let us remember that the voters of Randall county voted for Eisenhower in order to get rid of useless expenses in government, and $10,000 is just $10,000 whether spent in Canyon, or some place else. And likewise, $10,000 saved in Canyon is $10,000 saved to the federal budget.

Frankly we have no idea what will happen to the recommendation of the inspector when it gets to Washington. Canyon has all of the arguments in favor of the delivery service. The only question is whether the federal government will spend the money in Canyon or use the money to pay off some of the debts of the war.

The case of Pioneer airlines seems to be another one in which the government is seeking to save money. The people are seriously objecting, and therefore the case will probably be referred to the White House.

Pioneer says that it cannot operate with reduced prices set for mail contracts. Therefore it will close down its operation.

The government maintains that instead of operating profitable planes on its lines, Pioneer sold these smaller planes at a big profit and bought expensive and larger planes.

Since we have troubles of our own to worry about, we shall let Pioneer officials and the towns which Pioneer serves sweat it out with the government.

For the first time in 20 years economy seems to be the watchword in Washington.

We shall see what we shall see!

Canyon is not one of the towns affected by the proposed Canadian River Dam. But it was disgusting the way in which a down-state senator raised objections after objections to the dam when it was none of his dam business.

The people of 12 towns affected may be fixing to waste a lot of money.

On the other hand, they may be far-sighted in getting together to build the dam. At least it will be their own money which they will be wasting, so why should down-staters object?

This wave of economy is likely to cause the wreck of a lot of worthy enterprises.

"Name the Mystery Farm."

Can you do it? Many readers have speculated on the picture which appeared in The Canyon News last week.

This was the beginning of a series of pictures which will continue for 52 weeks.

We are mighty proud of the farmers of Randall county. They are the enterprising citizens who are working so faithfully for the upbuilding of this county. They have spent a lot of money in the improvement of their homes and equipment.

The boys who took these pictures are experts in the field of air photography. They make their own cuts and will keep the series running in the paper during the life of their contract for the coming year. They could not possibly have secured aerial photos of all of the fine farm homes of the county. No one knows the pictures they took, and the operators did not know these people. All they knew was that they were within the boundary of Randall county. The photos were taken and the negatives shipped to the engraving plant. Extra copies of these photos may be secured through this paper at much less than you could employ a plane to take such photos of your home.

We are confused—greatly confused.

We have been led to believe that Americans were the greatest people of the earth, and that the American army could whip anything on earth.

Perhaps this is just what the high brass of Russia have wanted us to believe. They wanted to test our equipment and troops against their friends, the Chinese, in Korea.

The armed chair strategists have us hanging on the ropes. There was call for sudden armament during the early days of Korea. Now they tell us that most of our efforts have been in vain. The material which we made for war last year, or even last month, is now worthless. It is antiquated, and far less valuable than the stuff being produced in Russia, so these fellows tell us.

We are told that the Russians have scattered their manufacturing plants over a huge area, thus lessening the dangers of attack. We are told that the Reds have superior planes and a radar detection system which far shades anything that we have.

These gloom promoters would have us believe that we are just ready to be taken over by the Reds of Russia—if we do not follow out their plan—in which case we shall have a fine, rosy path. The trouble is that they change their plans too often for us to keep up with them.

A Catholic Bishop raises some pertinent questions which all of us should carefully consider before we start in condemning, right and left, the action of our fellow men. He lays the blame right on our own doorstep:

If Communism is responsible for a lot of the evil in the world, but not for all of it. How about us?

If Communism hates God, how much do we love Him?

If Communism destroys churches, how eager are we to be in them?

If Communism expels missionaries, how much do we support them by prayers and contributions?

If Communism kills priests and brothers and nuns, how are we to have our children enter the religious life?

If Communism reduces the working man to the status of a slave of the State, how careful is management to pay just wages, and the working man to put in a full day's work?

If Communism raises the clenched fist in revolution against God, how often are we found with our hands joined in prayer?

Communism will be in trial before God's judgment seat.

But never forget: We'll be on the carpet, too.

The Big Three of the last war are being whittled down faster than the Big Four of World War I, and strangely, the eldest of the Big Three is the only one alive today.

There are mentalities that would not care to read the daily newspapers if the sports or comic pages were left out.

Advertising is not a racket, regardless of what some high pressure sellers of alleged publicity may tell you.

Subscribers who pay up this month are entitled to enjoy the Spring days without further molestation.

Local self-government is an important right and heritage in this country sometimes overlooked.

The misery of miseries is to seek a place in the social whirl out of relation to one's income.

The majority rarely exercises its power in this country.

PHONY BUT FUNNY

The prize for aplomb goes to the over-the-road driver who surprised in a farmer's melon patch, said: "Nice you came along. One of your melons came unhitched and I can't seem to get it refastened."

Writing Contest
Deadline Nears

Response for entries in the annual Historical Writer's Contest, sponsored by the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society, has been very favorable, according to Dr. L. F. Sheffy, head of the WT history department and secretary of the society.

"While a good number of persons have indicated that they are entering the contest, they have not yet definitely told me that they are working on their papers," Dr. Sheffy said. "I would like very much for the people who are writing papers to contact me so I will have an idea of the number of papers to expect."

Deadline for entering manuscripts is April 10, Dr. Sheffy said. Awards of $100 and $50 for first and second prizes will be given.

The contest has been given to stimulate greater interest in collecting historical material of the Southwest and particularly the Panhandle area. Papers may be written upon any historical subject dealing with any phase of the history of West Texas and the Southwest.

There were 40 girls and their parents present. The girls gave a short program of songs, candle-light service and flag ceremonies before the dinner.

After the dinner and the birthday cakes had been enjoyed, the Scouts sang a Negro spiritual in two parts.

The party was brought to a close with the singing of "Taps."

Several Canyon and Amarillo merchants helped to make the party a success by donating merchandise.

The Scouts wish to thank Buffalo Food for napkins, Cooper's Market for place mats, Bellah's Market for paper plates, Warwick Printing Company for candles, Freshie Bakery for rolls and Coca Cola Bottling Company for drinks.

WT One Of Ten Colleges To Be Represented At Pentagon Meeting

A high compliment was handed the West Texas State College Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit Thursday when President James P. Cornette was invited to Washington to a conference March 25-27 on the Branch General program, under which WT's corps is classified.

Dr. Cornette is one of ten college and university presidents in the nation chosen from the 57 institutions which began offering the General Military Science program this year.

Representatives at the conference, called by Major General Hugh M. Milton II, executive of all ROTC programs, will review the general program "in light of the experience gained during its six or seven months operation." All colleges with the program have submitted views and recommendations.

General Milton, who visited the colleges within the past two months, was on the WT campus Feb. 24 to survey progress made here. He offered special praise to the military staff selected for the WT program.

When the "Branch General" ROTC program was instituted last summer, officials indicated that success of the program might bring a revision of the entire Army reserve training methods to one emphasizing general training. Meaning of the conference with General Milton probably is that the college programs will no longer emphasize one branch of service, but will leave specialized training to be given following graduation from college.

Colleges and universities, besides WT, sending representatives to the conference, are the University of Florida, University of Notre Dame, University of Connecticut, Rutgers University, Claremont Men's College, California, Louisiana State University, Michigan State University, Indiana University, and Cornell University.

The civilian educators will meet for the three days with Army personnel at the Pentagon to make a critical examination of ROTC course work, and the overall aspects of the program in general. Recommended changes will be considered.

BSU To Give Picnic At Palo Duro Canyon

Friday, March 27, the BSU is having a hayride-picnic at Palo Duro Canyon. The first wagon will leave the student center at 5:00 p. m.

An excellent program is being planned and this picnic should prove to be one of the top events of the year. Everyone is invited. Freshmen will be able to get back to the dormitories by 9:30, if it is necessary.

Historical Society Session On May 8

Annual business meeting of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society will be held May 8 at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum here, according to S. B. Whittenburg, Amarillo publisher and president of the society.

Col. James T. Padgett, Coleman rancher and historian by avocation, will be speaker for the evening banquet session to be held in the West Texas State College cafeteria. Colonel Padgett, World War II veteran of the Italian campaign, has prepared an address based on papers and letters of the Day family who were extensive landholders and ranchers throughout Central and West Texas during the late 1800's.

An afternoon meeting of the society's executive committee will precede a joint meeting of the board of directors and society members. Reports will be given by C. Boone McClure, museum director, Dr. Seymour Connor, archivist, Jack T. Hughes, curator of paleontology, and Floyd W. Studer, curator of archeology.

Western Art Show In Museum Galleries

An exhibit of Western art is on display this month at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum. The paintings are done in both oil and water colors by M. B. Cole of Marshall.

Mr. Cole is president of the East Texas Art Club, and has exhibited his work for a number of years in the south and Southwest. He specializes in works depicting scenes and events of both regions.

All of the works are colorful and are representative of the early life in the Southwest. Through his paintings, Mr. Cole shows an intimate knowledge of the Plains Indians and the early settlers. The paintings illustrate such typical Western scenes as range riding, Indian fighting, and bronco busting. All of the works are presented for sale.

FEW APPOINTEES

The new Federal Security administrator, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, has discovered that out of the more than 37,000 jobs in her agency, she can appoint persons of her own choice to only about six jobs. Government employees holding tenure under civil service cannot be readily removed to make room for new appointees and most of the employees in the agencies under her control are under civil service.

ATOM BLINDNESS

Results from a study by the Government's Atomic Bomb Casualty Commission show that, while at least 154 persons suffered "radiation cataracts" of the eye as a result of the Hiroshima blast, "only a very small percentage of them have so far shown any major loss of vision." This seems to prove that the danger of partial or complete blindness from atomic bomb radiations is much less than first indicated.

RETAIL SALES

Retail sales in January amounted to $13,000,000,000, ten per cent more than in the same month a year ago, according to the Commerce Department. January sales, adjusted for seasonal influences, were 1 per cent below the December level, due principally to a decline in sales of soft goods during the month.

GOOD TIMES

Economic experts throughout the nation think that "the average American" times will stay good for a while — as measured by the amount of money in his pocket-book. Even the farmer, whose net income has been slipping, may have seen the worst of the drop, the Washington experts predict.

OVER 65 AGE GROUP

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that, by 1975, persons over 65 years old will number around 21,000,000, which is an estimated 69 per cent increase over 1950. In 1900, when life expectancy was 68, the average worker was retired only three years before death. In 1975, when life expectancy is expected to rise to about 74, the worker retiring at 65 would have nine years of leisure.

POOR BURGLAR ALARM

"Heard about Mrs. Green's bad luck," said Mrs. Blobs over the fence. "Her husband's run away and what's more, he's robbed her of every penny she had."

"Well, I never!" gasped Mrs. Nobbs. "Poor dear! And she only married him because she was so scared of burglars!"

C of C To Assist With Dairy Show

Future activities for the Chamber of Commerce covered a broad area last week as Manager Glenn Waggoner took a long look at what will be done in the future. His courage was brought up somewhat by a new executive desk and new chairs the chamber bought.

One of the most pressing tasks was that of giving some assistance to the Randall County Dairy Show to be held either April 9 or 10. The chamber's agriculture committee under Dr. M. R. Callihan, is to assist in putting the dairy show over.

Dr. Callihan is head of the agriculture department at West Texas State College. In his work with the dairy show he will be working with Louis Hinders, president of the Randall County Dairy Show Association.

Then the chamber has a female marathon to work on. A couple of hundred women are coming through Canyon late this spring or early this summer. They may want to spend the night here. If they do the Chamber of Commerce will be the organization to find lodging for the women.

Phil Lovejoy Talked Tuesday Night at Rotary Ann Meeting

Dr. Phil Lovejoy of Evanston, Ill., immediate past secretary of Rotary International, spoke Tuesday night at the Rotary Ann dinner held at the Methodist Church. He was introduced by Floyd Hemphill, president of the Amarillo Rotary Club, who is accompanying him to eight Rotary Clubs in this area. He speaks at the Amarillo club Thursday.

Lovejoy asked the question, "What is the secret of Rotary?" He then proceeded to tell what other clubs in 84 nations were doing to carry out the spirit of Rotary. Rotary consists in the finest and highest type of life to every community in which it is established.

Rotarians are doing something for someone else, stated the speaker.

He talked of Korea, where half of the membership in one club was killed when the Reds moved in. The number one crime in Korea is to be a member of a Rotary club, and is punishable by death.

The ideal of Rotary must be kept alive. It is the ideal of service and decency. Hatred between various creeds and peoples of India, Palestine, and South Africa are being broken down through the miracle of brotherhood.

Regardless of how little the mission may seem, the spirit of Rotary is carried out when clubs do the best they can with the material at hand, declared the speaker.

Highland News

We had another West Texas dust storm over the week-end. But the week began with beautiful days that gave everyone the gardening fever.

Mr. and Mrs. Buford Sparks were in Portales on business Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Moore of Kress were Sunday guests in the home of their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Tooley.

Several families in the community are proud owners of television sets. They report good reception from Amarillo.

John Boling was honored on his birthday with a dinner in the Winston Evans home on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Ray Boling and Mrs. John Boling were present.

Randy Jones has been running high fever the past week.

Whooping cough and measles are keeping some of the school children at home.

Nearly everyone with irrigation wells has started watering. The land is being put in shape for maize planting.

Spring was officially ushered in Thursday. Signs of spring are everywhere. Grass is getting green, and fruit trees are blossomed out.

Work has started on the well at the Baptist church. It is being drilled deeper. The well has been nearly dry for several months but it really went dry two weeks ago. Several wells in the community are going dry as the water level is getting lower.

BROWNIES ENTERTAIN

Brownie Scout Troops of Canyon entertained their families with a covered dish dinner Thursday at the recreation hall of the First Baptist Church. They chose this time because of the birthday of the Girl Scouts of America. There were approximately 175 persons present.

The second and third grade girls had their initiation service. Fourth graders gave a candle lighting service and sang Brownie songs. Girls who wished played their recital pieces on the piano furnished background music.

Mrs. Amelia Warren and Beth, Mrs. Phillips and daughter spent Sunday in Hereford with their son and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs.

PAINTS AND VARNISHES

Highlights and Sidelights FROM your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Crime is the big news in the Legislature.

Lawmakers are considering a report of the House Crime Investigating Committee. Among other things, the committee recommended that the state set up an agency, something like the FBI, to act when local law enforcement officers fail to do their jobs.

Representative Fred Meridith of Terrell is chairman of the committee, which spent two years looking into the status of crime in Texas. The report said that there are fewer organized law violations than there have been in some time.

But members warned that the situation can change suddenly.

Liquor violations are serious, the committee said, suggesting that the law be changed so that:

Liquor permits would be cancelled if there is gambling or sale of narcotics on the premises.

Licensed establishments would be forced to close when the curfew hour on liquor sales is reached.

Bringing of liquor from Mexico would be prohibited except during those hours when liquor can legally be purchased in Texas.

The Texas Liquor Control Board would have radio cars to help agents apprehend bootleggers (violators who transport liquor into dry territory.)

Also recommended was establishment of a narcotics division in the Texas Department of Public Safety.

In the Senate is a modified automobile inspection bill, passed by the House after a great deal of wrangling.

Representative D. H. Buchanan of Longview is author of the bill, which provides that brakes, lights, warning devices, horns, mirrors, and windshield wipers must be inspected.

The bill does not make an inspection tag necessary to get a car license.

The Senate also heard sharp words on the subject of car inspection, and Senator Carlos Ashley of Llano went to the length of suggesting the impeachment of Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Ashley's charge was that Garrison had not enforced the law requiring motorists to have the inspection tag before buying their automobile licenses.

Ashley, long a foe of the car inspection law, believes that if it were rigidly enforced the people would demand its repeal.

His move in the Senate was a resolution ordering the upper house investigating committee to find out why Garrison had "refused to perform his official duty and to determine whether or not this arbitrary refusal is grounds for impeachment proceedings."

Senators A. M. Aikin, Jr., of Paris and George Moffett of Chillicothe defended Garrison, saying that his administration has been exemplary. Ashley's resolution was defeated, 27 to 3.

Crime and law enforcement also came up in connection with a meeting between a Jim Wells County grand jury and Governor Allan Shivers, who assured his visitors that he and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd will study ways to improve the situation.

The governor asserted he would favor "a setup where the vote of the people would elect a district judge instead of George Parr's doing it."

The jury had protested that District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin had thrown stumbling blocks in the way of its investigations. Laughlin was elected with Parr's backing.

On the day following the grand jury's interview with the governor, Laughlin quashed 68 indictments returned by a Starr County grand jury. The indictments were against county and election officials at the time of the 1952 Democratic primary.

Senator J. T. Rutherford promised a "fight to the finish" for the removal of Dr. George W. Cox as state health officer.

The state board of health again postponed action on Cox' appointment at a meeting where Rutherford demanded a complete investigation of the department.

Rutherford charged that Cox had used a state employee and state materials to paint his house. He accused Ed Ridell, business manager of the department, as being its lobbyist; and he contended that the health office has so many employees that they are falling all over each other.

Cox and Ridell denied these charges, and Cox said they were nothing but politics.

The board meets again in June, and Cox' appointment may come up again at that time.

The House appropriations committee followed the lead of economy-minded members and approved a bill providing $161,358,168 for general expenditures during the next two years.

That is all the money in sight from present sources. According to the constitution, the state cannot spend more than it has.

The appropriation does not take care of increased spending, demanded from many sources for higher teachers' and state employees' salaries, road building, and other expenses.

If those expenses are to be met, there will have to be new taxes to raise the money.

Representative George T. Hinson of Mineola advocates getting more funds by means of his bill to put a tax of two cents per thousand cubic feet on natural gas produced under contracts covering more than a one-year period.

The tax, Hinson estimates, will bring the state $30 million a year.

Another recommendation was that of a West Texas group in the House. They presented a bill that would up taxes on natural resources, refineries, and the chemical industry so as to bring the state an additional $80 million per year.

The money would go to teachers and state employees, city streets, highways, colleges, and prisons.

Some legislators were up in arms about the Esquire magazine piece "Truth About Texas." Representative Marshall O. Bell urged the Attorney General to find out whether the magazine's mailing privileges could be suspended. Representative S. J. Isaacks said "no other writer has told so many lies in so few words."

SHORT SNORTS: Unless Texas sets up an agency to deal with the federal government about surplus foodstuffs, the state may not get any more. The foods have been used largely in the public school lunch program. William E. Pool, law graduate of the University of Texas, is the new secretary of the state bar, succeeding William J. Park, who died last month.

Representative Don Kennard of Fort Worth introduced new members are serving on the state hospital board. They are Dr. Raleigh Ross of Austin, John G. Dudley of Houston and Dr. James H. Wooten of Columbus. If you come to Austin, you'll have to put a dime in Congress Avenue meters for an hour's parking. A nickel will get only half an hour from meters just installed.

One of the Representatives received a wire the other day from a friend back home stating that the friend's wife had just given birth to a baby girl. Attached to the wire was a sticker which read, "When you want a boy, call Western Union."

GMC TRUCKS

Gasoline 4,800 GVW to 90,000 GVW
Diesel 19,500 GVW to 100,000 GVW

No other light trucks have all this

YOU don't expect polo-pony agility from a truck in traffic—but the new GMC's have it.

You'd like to have passenger-car pace and economy on the highway—and you'll get it from the 1953 GMC's.

For there are two great advances that step the new GMC's ahead of all previous truck performance:

One: Dual-Range Hydra-Matic Drive*—the fully automatic shift with 3 speeds for traffic, 4 for the open road—available on 19 models through the 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton capacity range.

Two: a new line of engines of progressive design, with compression ratios of 7.5 to 1 and 8.0 to 1—the highest of any gasoline truck engine ever built. Here's pile-driver power behind every piston stroke—flashing response and better mileage are squeezed from regular fuel.

Many chassis advances, too, add to the extra-value features that make GMC's, point for point, the biggest dollar's worth in the light-truck field as well as in the heavier lines.

We confidently tell you—these great new GMC's will do your job better, easier, and at the lowest over-all cost. They have stamina beyond their size, because they're "built like the big ones"—the heavy-duty GMC's that lead the world in sales.

That's saying a lot. But just come in—and we'll prove it.

*Standard equipment on Package Delivery model; optional at moderate extra cost on the others.

Santa Fe

America's New Railroad

What's this surveyor doing? He's sighting on tomorrow... clipping off an old curve... clipping off the past...

It goes on day after day on the Santa Fe. Building new.

Till there's nothing left that's old today of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe but the country and the song and the pride of its people!

IN THE PAST 5 YEARS... Whole fleets of streamlined trains replaced with finer streamlined trains... Enough new track laid to more than reach from Chicago to Los Angeles... Great new "hump" yards built to speed switching... New roadbed, new rail and new ballast methods—for smoother, safer rides for goods and people.

IN THE PAST YEAR... New freight stations, with new towveyors, at Chicago and San Francisco... Great new construction started to raise Santa Fe rails in Kansas and Missouri above the highest flood stage of recorded history.

IN THIS YEAR... New micro-wave communication system put in service between Galveston and Beaumont, Texas... New freight classification yard will be opened at Belen, New Mexico.

AND IN THE NEXT YEAR... More curves will be clipped, more grades reduced... 119 new diesel units will go to work... New modern diesel shops will be completed... 3600 new freight cars will be placed in service... New electronic communication and control equipment will be installed... and El Capitan will be re-equipped with all new chair cars!

AND IN THE NEXT 5 YEARS... New cars and whole new trains will be rolling on an ever newer, greater Santa Fe.

It costs Santa Fe millions (not one penny from the taxes you pay) to keep America's New Railroad growing newer every day.

'Simon The Leper' at Methodist Church Monday Night

Throughout the Passover our thoughts turn to the death and resurrection of Christ. Dorothy Clarke Wilson, author of many successful pageant plays, presents the story of "Simon the Leper" in a four episode drama.

Action of the play takes place in a garden between the homes of Simon and Lazarus in Bethany. As the story begins Judith, sister of Simon, reveals that Simon has been gone for five years. In his absence Amon, Simon's brother, has greedily coveted his fortune. Susanna, betrothed of Simon and having assumed him dead, tells Judith and Amon of her interest in Ben Jerar, the rich merchant. Into this scene walks Lazarus, Judith's beloved, with the message that Jesus, the Galilean, is coming!

For the remaining story of the play, directors Midge Fite and Jack Teague invite you to the Methodist Church Monday night, March 30th, at 7:30. In recognition of the Easter season, the Wesleyan Players are enacting "Simon the Leper."

Woody Bedford, Hereford sophomore, will portray the role of Simon. The part of Judith will be interpreted by Mary Carolyn Gaines, Dalhart sophomore. Jack Teague will assume the role of Amon and Midge Fite the part of Susanna. Byron Gammage will play the part of Lazarus. Colleen Brown, Betty Robinson and Travis Jordan will take the parts of Mary, Martha and Jalon, respectively.

This group of dramatists from the Methodist Student Center is attempting to obtain national affiliation with the Wesleyan Players. To attain this goal they must produce a specified number of plays, and be accepted by neighboring colleges who have reached such status.

Cubs and Scouts Plan Future Work

Boy Scout and Cub Scout activities covered a broad area for the future early this week. Troop 66 is hard at work to raise funds for jamboree and camp activities and on Monday night the troop will hold a Court of Honor at 7:30 in the First Christian Church.

Cub Scouts were working on a fund raising project Saturday with a successful cake sale at Cooper's Market. Cub mothers who sold cakes were Mrs. Cecil O'Donald, Mrs. W. D. O'Donald, Mrs. Dale Brock, Mrs. Dick Louder, and Mrs. Edd Pettitt.

All Cub mothers made cakes, pies and cookies although some could not help sell. The Den now has a start on its Cubhouse for meetings. Any contribution of materials such as lumber, paint, or nails will be appreciated.

The jamboree fund is being raised by Scouts of Troop 66 who are selling tickets to a four film movie to be shown April 6 in the auditorium of the West Texas State College Administration Building. The four films are "World Series of 1952," "Making a Good Yankee," "Batting Stars of Baseball," and "Fielding Stars of Baseball."

Price of admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. The Scouts are also selling scotchite and old newspapers. For pick-up of papers, phone 204.

At the Court of Honor some important matters concerning the troop will be brought up. The troop is planning to attend the Camp Don Herrington Field Day. Biggest problem in connection with this event seems to be the attendance.

Local Preachers Busy Elsewhere

Earl L. Craig, director of the West Texas Bible Chair of the Church of Christ, will be the visiting preacher at the San Jacinto Church of Christ, Amarillo, on the Sundays of March 29 and April 5, preaching in both the morning and evening services.

Gene Miller will preach at the Church of Christ at Happy Sunday, March 29, at both morning and evening services.

Joe F. Watson, who was guest speaker at Central Church of Christ in Amarillo Sunday, March 22, will preach at the regular services of the church in Canyon next Sunday, March 29.

The public is cordially invited to attend the services as follows: Bible classes, 10:00 a. m., worship, 10:45 a. m., young folks meeting, 7:15 p. m., worship, 8:00 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Allen of Los Angeles, Calif., visited with Mrs. Ed Harrell this week. Mr. Allen is associated with Wilson Packing Co. He and Mrs. Allen had driven their car to New Orleans and had been one of the party making the South American tour that Mrs. Harrell was on. The Allens are now enroute home in their car.

Recent visitors in the home of Miss Columbia Redfearn were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Moore of Santa Fe, New Mexico. The Moores also visited with Mrs. Worth Jennings, Sr., and with S. H. Heyser.

Red Cross Active In Disaster Areas

Tornadoes which swept across Texas and two other Southwestern states during the second week of March served to emphasize the vital role of the Red Cross. Both local and national chapters work together in alleviating suffering during a disaster.

Since 1945 the Red Cross has expended $4,900,678.35 in relief in Texas. The organization has helped 26,357 families to get back on their financial standing in the wake of disasters. The funds came from the people of Texas as well as from people in the other states.

Total number of buildings destroyed or badly damaged during the past seven years is 69,595. During this time Texas' disaster deaths rose to 751 and the number of injured was 3,524.

The Texas disasters in which the Red Cross participated as the official relief agency varied in character. They included floods, hurricanes and tornadoes, fires, explosions, wind and hailstones, and sudden cold waves. Each disaster received the immediate attention of the Red Cross, both local and national chapters.

Chapter workers provided mass shelter and feeding for the stricken communities; supervised the removal of the dead, and often paid burial costs. Red Cross workers cared for injured personnel and paid in full the medical bill of a great many. Money for rebuilding and refurnishing homes was provided by the Red Cross in many cases.

Governor Allan Shivers recently recognized the importance of the Red Cross in Texas. He said, "The presence in our midst of an organization such as this — an organization of people prepared to help other people in time of distress and great need — is heartening and comforting to us all."

Through the years the Red Cross has given invaluable service in the relief and rehabilitation of our people who were victims of calamity of every kind and character. Indeed, in some years, Red Cross has put back into this state more funds for disaster relief alone than the entire contribution in the state to the national Red Cross program.

Public Will Pay More for Everything If Price Fixing Legislation Passes

An effort is being made to persuade the Legislature that the fair-trade price bill before it (H.B. 42, by Lamar Zivley, styled the "clean competition" bill) is aimed at only one feature of one type of retail business.

But the bill would affect business of all retail firms, from the smallest village to the biggest city.

It would prohibit retail sale of merchandise "below cost" plus mark-up, and it applies to all merchandise in all types of stores.

Its effect would be to prohibit a merchant selling as cheaply as he might be able and willing to sell. It would result in increases of costs to the consumer, and would destroy an element of competitive merchandising.

Further, this bill, if enacted, would be a big opening wedge toward the long-sought goal of the standard "fair trade" bill which would enforce manufacturer-fixed prices on all retailers, when one retailer in the entire state contracted to comply with manufacturer's prices.

Advocates of legislation to fix or sustain prices have been before every session of the Legislature for two decades with measures in the present form or other all having the practical end effect of raising the price of goods available to the consumer.

The question before the people of Texas, and the Legislature, is how far statutory price-control would be carried if the principle is adopted as law in any form.

Sponsors of the Zivley bill say it is designed to abolish the practice of "loss leader" selling; but its terms are as wide as a merchant's inventory, and it covers the department store, the hardware store, the clothing shop, just the same as it applies to the retail grocer.

The bill has been set for hearing before the House state affairs committee the night of April 1, when opposing business groups will reiterate old arguments for and against legislative price regulation. But left in between is the consuming public of Texas, which would pay the bill; and the fact this would be a big bill is obvious from the intense and determined efforts to secure price legislation.

House Cleaning Time Brings Added Accidents To People

Spring is the time for a home hazard hunt, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. Accidents in the home are the second leading cause of accidental death in Texas. Each year about one thousand persons die as the result of accidents in the home.

Spring house cleaning time is a good time to remove the common hazards that cause so many home accidents. Attics, basements and closets accumulate piles of junk. Piles of papers, magazines, broken furniture and other combustible material are dangerous fire hazards. In addition, rats, mice, cockroaches and other pests thrive in trash heaps.

Loose throw rugs are notorious for causing falls. Toys and other objects scattered over the floors and stairway often cause falls. Check the electrical cords and see that they are in good shape. Frayed electric cords have caused fires and sometimes fatal shocks.

While rounding up piles of junk to throw away, don't forget to look into the garage, backyard and alleys. In your spring clean-up check your garbage can. Be sure that it is of metal and see that it has a tight fitting lid. Cooperate with your neighbor in seeing that the community disposes of all garbage and trash in a sanitary manner.

This general clean-up, if carried out all through the year, will reduce home accidents and sickness or death from such diseases as polio, typhoid fever, malaria, typhus and others.

Hospital Costs Not High When Work Is Considered

Hospitals have come a long way. In medieval times, and well into the eighteenth century, they were little more than workhouses or almshouses for the poverty stricken or dying. Today nearly everyone can share their benefits, and it has been estimated that at least one member of the average American family of five will spend four days in a hospital during the course of a year.

At first glance hospital costs may seem high. New drugs and more skilled medical and nursing care mean that patients pay more per hospital day than they did, say 65 years ago. However, they save in the long run by having to spend less time in the hospital and by losing less time from work. For instance, in 1888 the average of patient days spent in the hospital was 52 days; today it is less than eight days.

The dollar the patient pays the hospital has to go a long way. From 58 to 75 per cent of it may go into salaries of hospital personnel. The rest has to stretch to cover other operating expenses such as food, public utilities, and laundry. For future construction and expansion, funds usually must come from other sources such as taxes or private philanthropy through endowments, community chests, special drives or campaigns.

With the higher cost per day of hospital care and shorter hospitalizations during which it may be paid, more and more people are finding it hard to pay their bills in a lump sum. A great many of them find it to their advantage to budget for hospital care in some way—through insurance premiums or arrangements with the hospital for installment payments, either before or after they leave the hospital.

Anyone who thinks he may have trouble meeting his hospital expenses would do well to talk at the earliest opportunity with hospital officials, who can advise him what to do. They can explain, for example, what part of his bill will be covered by insurance and what part he must bear personally. Even if he is unable to pay anything, hospitals can provide needed care. Furthermore, social service workers in these institutions, in cooperation with community welfare agencies, can help him get on his feet, financially and medically speaking, after his discharge.

The hospitals have several other jobs besides caring for the sick. They train future doctors and nurses, provide facilities for medical research, and provide facilities (outpatient clinics, for example) for the actual prevention of disease, thereby raising health standards of the community. Citizens play varied roles in relation to the hospital. First, they are patients. Next, they pay its expenses otherwise as insurance policyholders, taxpayers, or donors to hospital funds. Finally they may work in the hospital on a paid or volunteer basis.

Hospitals belong to the community's citizens, and that's as it should be. What they want from their hospitals they should be able to get by working through the proper channels. Public opinion alone can be a tremendous factor in determining hospital policies.

Lazy Gossipers

A student who wants a gossip column in a school paper is lazy. Gossip is easy to read. A student needs no intelligence to insist on a gossip column. A column should offer a challenge or good clean humor. The gossip column does neither of these.

The columnist writes what is said whether fact or fiction, and interprets in the way he understands. No special talent is required to write a scandal sheet in a school publication.

Journalistic writing is not gossip. This paper is put out by journalism students who are striving for a better paper, written to inform the public. The public is not only the students but the parents as well.

Anyone can understand gossip; it takes no special brain work because it is a type of writing that a grade school child can readily understand. This is no accomplishment for a high school student.

All information in a school paper is based on TRUTH, and does not suggest a meaning.

Exaggeration is used in this so-called humor-column to interest the readers. Newspapers are based on fact. Gossip creates trouble, misunderstanding, and hard feelings. A lazy person reads the simple, first-grade, type of writing, because it requires no effort on his or the writer's part.

Are you mentally lazy?

TV—A New Era

Yes, television sets forth a new era in entertainment and communication. For many years we have had radio, telegraphy, and telephones.

For many years we have had television too. But it took many years to develop the new discovery. In fact, television was heard of on December 16, 1926, when the press reported that a machine for transmitting moving pictures by radio, had been developed by Dr. E. F. W. Anderson, a G-E engineer.

The first method of producing a picture with the new invention, was with revolving mirrors. The initial method was soon replaced by an improved revolving disk. The image being televised was placed before a brilliant light, with this disk between the image and the photo cells. With varying lights, the impulses were picked up by radio and changed into rays for broadcasting.

The first public view of television was staged on August 22, 1928, when Al Smith accepted the nomination for president. Both picture and voice were relayed by GE engineers to Schenectady, NY, 15 miles distant.

Research is being conducted for color television and theatre television relay. With these improvements, you could have a theatre in your own home. Although the Greeks didn't have it, they had a name for it: "tele" means "at a distance," and "vision" means "the ability to see." Put them together and you have television.

So you see, television will make a very interesting study. Why don't you try it? You'll just love TV!

Newman Directs CHS Band Clinics

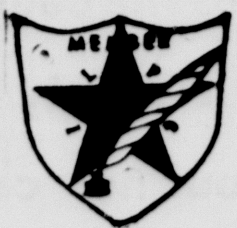

Under the baton of M. J. Newman, director of the Buffalo Band, the Canyon High School Band held two clinical sessions Wednesday morning and Thursday afternoon, March 18 and 19, in the band annex and the college bandroom.

With the spring contest coming in April, the band director decided to hold the special workouts to practice numbers for that event.

"Horizon Overture," "Prelude and Fugue in G Minor," and "March Con Brio" were played, and Mr. Newman discussed the passages that needed improvement.

The Junior High School Band also worked with Mr. Newman in sessions Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning.

Senior Class Play Thursday and Friday at Auditorium

Seniors of Canyon High are busy making last minute preparations for their annual play to be presented Thursday and Friday. This year the seniors have selected a mystery-comedy, "Finders Creepers," which will be directed by Mrs. Dan Sanders and T. L. Devin, class sponsors.

Members of the cast are Tommy Myers, Buddy Thompson, Laura Smith, Leroy Dickerson, Sue Ann Kinney, Donald McDonald, Elvira Boyd, Sarah Colwell, Lyndall Dawson, James Joyner, Nancy Bolton, Ralph Green, Peggy Bonds, Dan Gaylor, Bob Huddleston, and Frances Cunningham.

The story is built around two boys who spend a week-end with one of the boy's aunt and uncle. The boys meet two young girls, which makes their visit more interesting, and several other odd relatives of the boy. The story has the usual suspense of a murder story mixed with comedy associated with such a plot.

Members of the class who are assisting with the technical part of the play are Lynn McKinney and La Rue Davis who are the program chairmen. Publicity is under the direction of Marietta Sanders, Shirley White, Doyle Bourn, Lucille Simon, Carol Rose, and Catherine Wiegard.

Sound effects will be directed by Steve McKee, Len McKay, Ogden Boothe, Harold Root, Dorothy Cleavinger, and Bob Hood.

Ushers for both nights will be Willie Mac Weaver, Bob Hood, Gaylene Pettit, Shirley Glenn, Lucille Shelnett, John Quillen, Guy Hamblen, Lawrence Hermesmeier, and Don Hicks.

Tickets may be purchased from Lyndell Dawson, Coy Black, Barbara Glanton, Carlene Morton, June Wortham, Grace Sheets, Richard Pruitt, or may be secured at the door at the auditorium.

Specialties and entertainment will be given by A. C. Wimberly, Willie Mac Weaver, Shirley Glenn, Shirley Marshall, Steve McKee, Ralph Green, Dorothy Cleavinger, John Miller, and Dick Dawdy.

Stage managers and properties are under direction of A. C. Wimberly, Peggy Bonds, Dick Dawdy, Nancy Bolton, Annette Pond, John Miller, Jerry Downing, Harold Root, Ogden Boothe, Clifton Newberry, Laura Smith, Elvira Boyd, Shirley Glenn, and Bob Hood.

Special assistance will be given by Mrs. T. L. Devin, who will direct the make-up section.

Curtain time is 8 o'clock, and everyone is urged to attend.

Junior Lions Are Guests of Club

More Junior Lions have been selected from the senior class to attend meetings of the Lions Club held in the Methodist Church every Wednesday.

J. E. Miller, sponsor of the Student Faculty Congress, and John Miller, president, have worked together on the selection of those boys. The basis for selection is good school citizenship, passing in all work, and fair-mindedness.

Boys who will attend meetings during the next four weeks are Leroy Dickerson, March 25; Lawrence Hermesmeier, April 1; Tom Middleton, April 8, and Lynn Williams, April 15.

Top Seniors Vie In Aptitude Test

Four top ranking seniors, Laura Smith, Frances Cunningham, Carlene Morton, and Carol Rose, have been selected as candidates to take the General Scholastic Aptitude Test. The GAT will be given in Canyon High on March 24.

Purpose of the test is to determine scholarship winners. This excellent opportunity is offered by the National Association of Secondary School Principals, which sponsors the National Honor Society.

The school is limited in the number of candidates eligible to compete, and the students with the highest grade ratings are chosen. To be eligible to take this aptitude test, the student must be a senior, a member of the National Honor Society, and planning to enter college.

Tests will be sent in to the national association. To be a winner of one of the scholarships is considered a great honor since tests will be sent in from schools all over the nation, and a limited number of scholarships are available with a maximum of only 55 winners. Although the test scores are extremely important in the awarding of the scholarships, they will not be the only basis for selection.

The winning of a scholarship or cash award will not necessarily admit a student to any college he selects. The student is responsible for meeting entrance requirements. The scholarship or award can be used for any fee that the college requires.

Neither the school nor the winner will be under any obligation whatsoever, now or later. Winners will be announced May 15.

Panel Discussion Features Freedom

"It is Good to be An American" was the topic which the selected group of economic students discussed in a panel for the program for the P-TA Thursday in the cafeteria. Mrs. Dan F. Sanders was in charge of the panel.

Students who participated in the discussion were Bob Hood, Frances Cunningham, Richard Pruett, June Wortham, Sarah Colwell, and Carol Rose.

Bob Hood acted as moderator and introduced the speakers. The topic Frances discussed was liberty of conscience (freedom of speech, press, and religion). Our liberty to hold and acquire property was the subject of Richard's talk. Our political rights were explained by June. Sarah Colwell discussed our equal rights under the law.

The panel was concluded with a discussion of the Bill of Rights vs. dictatorship by Carol.

ACC Band Plays Concert at CHS

Robert E. Holland and his band from Abilene Christian College, Abilene, presented a concert in the high school auditorium Thursday. The band is composed of 66 members which represents 12 states and one foreign country.

Selections played by the band were "Slavonic Rhapsody," "Fiddle Faddle," "King Carnival," "Coon Among the Chickens," "Hey, Pedro," "Burst of Trumpets," and "Gypsy Baron March." Herman W. Demus, instructor of the CHS band, directed the ACC band in the march "Chicago Tribune." The band played "Blue Tango" for the encore number.

John Gipson, president of the band, was master of ceremonies. He introduced the band sweetheart, Virginia Chenault, and the band mother.

Miller Dehydrates Ancient Inca Food

One book report can lead to an experiment.

David Miller, CHS sophomore, recently gave a report on the Inca Indians in Peru to the Spanish II class and decided to try some of the ancient Inca tricks of food preservation.

David, like the Indians, took a potato, which originally came from Peru, and froze it; then taking a knife, he cut a small hole in the vegetable and squeezed the water content from it and let it dry in the sun for a few days. It is now the size of an oversized peanut, and was once the size of an apple.

SFC Adopts School Seal

In a called meeting of the CHS Student Faculty Congress last Tuesday in the superintendent's office, an official school seal was adopted by the group. Also, a committee was appointed to make arrangements for an all-school social.

Adoption of the official school seal was voted on and approved by the SFC members. The seal will be stamped on all official documents going out of CHS. An example of such documents would be the senior diplomas. In past years there has been no stamp or seal on any official documents or senior diplomas, but this seal will be used henceforth.

The seal will be round with three main circles, each within the other. In the extreme outer circle will be printed the words Canyon High School, Canyon, Texas. In the inner circle next to the name of the school and town will be printed the school motto, Knowledge, Loyalty, Honor, Courage, and Service.

A small dot will separate each word. In the middle circle of the seal will be found a lone star, significant of Texas, the Lone Star State. In the center of the star will be an eagle insignia, significant of the Canyon Eagles.

A committee is now working on a large sketch of the seal to be displayed to the student body.

An all-school social was discussed at the meeting. No plans were definitely decided upon. A committee is now working on the details and will present them at a later date.

To eat the dehydrated potato the Incas grind it into small bits and cook it in water.

David insists that you try it sometime.

Athletes Canyon High Banquet Friday Night

Canyon High School's sports personnel enjoyed the high point of the year Friday night. The annual Athletic Banquet glittered with thrilling events and speakers. There was the coronation ceremony. Frank Kimbrough, head football coach at West Texas State College, was principal speaker of the evening.

The master of ceremonies, Hatcher Brown, assistant coach and physical education instructor at the college, introduced Holmes Ambrose, assistant professor of music at WT, who sang, and near the end of the program Joe Gibson, superintendent of schools, made a short address.

James E. Miller, principal of the high school, was responsible for the preparations of the annual affair. Athletes and guests enjoyed a steak dinner.

First event of the evening was crowning of the football queen, June Wortham. Her escort was Dan Gaylor, and her attendants were Laura Smith, Ann Holt, Grace Sheets, and Roberta Grigsby. The coronation ceremony included the crowning of other students selected as athletic royalty during the current season.

R. A. Burgess was crowned Basketball King by the girls' basketball squad. His escort was Peggy Bonds. Guy Hamblen escorted the boys' basketball queen, Joan Payne.

Hatcher Brown kept events moving at a rapid pace with his buoyant humor. After a brief introduction of guests the athletes introduced themselves and their guests.

Frank Kimbrough prefaced his talk with jokes about the athletes. The serious part of his speech centered around the question, "Why Do We Play?" He said that playing was important but was only beneficial when closely associated with other studies.

Kimbrough turned to statistics to illustrate that only 1% of the men in the United States are college graduates. He stated that most of our leaders come from this 1%. In many instances the qualified leaders were students who had been equally good in sports and studies.

After Kimbrough had finished, Supt. Joe Gibson welcomed the guests and spoke on the part sports play in helping boys and girls to understand this competitive world. He said that Canyon High School has a high class of young people and that it was to their best interest to learn about competition through sports.

At the end of Gibson's short speech the master of ceremonies made the adjourning talk. The entire program took less than three hours.

Mrs. Lee Christine Sanford Honored With Miscellaneous Shower Saturday

Umbarger News

On Saturday afternoon the spacious home of Mrs. Alvin McDonald was the setting for a miscellaneous shower honoring Lee Christine Cousins Sanford, who will be married on Sunday, March 29, to Phil Patterson of New York City. He is assistant editor of Sales Management Magazine, published there.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. McDonald were Mrs. O. A. May, Mrs. Zula Usery, Mrs. A. K. Goodman, Mrs. Tom Brasher, and Miss Elva Fronabarger.

Guests were greeted by Miss Debra McDonald, who graciously presented them to her mother, Mrs. Alvin McDonald, who received with the honoree and her mother, Mrs. L. M. Cousins.

Miss Elva Fronabarger registered the guests. Then they were taken on a tour of the beautiful home which was spotted throughout with unusual arrangements of flowers and exotic lights. On the return to the living room the guests were shown into the large game room in which the many beautiful gifts were most artistically displayed.

Decorations of flowers in the living and dining room carried out the bride-to-be's chosen color scheme of yellow and blue. Stock and gladioli were in the arrangement on the living room mantel. The cadenza in the dining room was decorated with a conversational piece formed from jonquils, forsythia, and imported bells of Ireland.

Draped in hand embroidered linen the serving table was centered with a starched crocheted blue wedding bell mounted on blue styrofoam edged with frills of blue net. Forming a background for the bell were yellow and blue carnations and yellow tapers.

Guests were served individual cakes decorated with blue icing and centered with perfect wedding bells, ribbon sandwiches, mints, nuts, and punch. Mrs. T. W. Collins and Mrs. Jimmie Holsten of Borger presided at the punch bowl. Master Mike Sanford and Miss Janie Sue Sanford assisted in the dining room.

Soft music formed a pleasing background for the conversations of the guests.

First Lady Asks Mothers To Help Red Cross Drive

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower made three requests Saturday in connection with the current Red Cross drive. These requests were directed to the mothers of the nation. Specifically they were: "Make a fund contribution of their own and make sure that other family members and neighbors have contributed, sign up for a blood donation at the earliest possible moment, and to call at their Red Cross chapters with an offer of assistance to collect funds in neighborhoods where there are no solicitors."

The requests were delivered to national Red Cross workers at the White House. Mrs. Eisenhower explained that she was deeply interested in the work of the Red Cross. She said the Red Cross was now carrying a heavier load because of the gamma globulin program.

The First Lady of the United States said that blood contributions would help save lives of the boys in combat in Korea. She added that the gamma globulin was a blood derivative to help prevent the crippling attacks following polio.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

More and more events are proving the need for a revamping of the system for enforcement of the nation's anti-trust laws.

In two major cases, the oil case and the Dupont case progress has been deliberately slowed down to give the new Administration an opportunity to review the cases and decide what it wishes to do in the matters.

This is especially confusing in the oil company case which is a C. W. Harder criminal action. Five major oil companies are charged with conspiring to create and maintain a worldwide petroleum cartel.

The situation is similar to that which would prevail if all criminal cases pending in state courts would be delayed until a new governor had a chance to look them over.

Thus, for some peculiar reason, the traditional American principle of impartial justice, impartially administered, is suspended in anti-trust violation cases.

It also appears that even Federal judges resent the unorthodox procedure that crops up.

Judge James Kirkland has set March 18 as the last date that the oil companies have to produce documents pertaining to their foreign operations or adequate reasons why they cannot produce them, or face contempt charges. The time was extended, the court said to give the new Administration time to make a decision on the case. This came after the National Security Council held that disclosure of the foreign dealings of the American oil companies might be harmful to the national interests.

However, Judge Kirkland has expressed doubt of any danger to national security in disclosure of the documents.

Earlier in the Dupont case, the statement was made in Federal court that a possibility existed that the new Administration might want to stop the case.

But it is interesting to realize that these cases are prepared laboriously by career attorneys in the Department of Justice.

Yet a politically appointed Attorney General, who in turn appoints the Assistant Attorney Generals including the one in charge of the anti-trust division, can without the public having any recourse, throw out a case that has taken years to prepare.

This in turn results in a two edged weapon that can be used as a political weapon. Cases which should be tried can be dropped, or cases can be instituted against firms for purposes of harassment where the foundation for a case does not exist.

American legal procedure is supposed to be impersonal.

That is why independent businessmen all over the nation are asking Congress to make it impossible for the prosecution of anti-trust cases to be affected by political changes. Even though political factors are not introduced in present pending cases, an unhealthy condition exists when the law makes it possible for many people to believe that a change of administration will have an effect. It is hoped that the position of heading the anti-trust division of the Department of Justice will be made a permanent one, filled by a competent career attorney.

Mystery Farm Identified As Boehning Place

The first mystery picture which appeared in last week's News was identified Thursday afternoon as the farm of Walter Boehning. Identification was made by Lawrence Boehning, son of Walter Boehning. At present Lawrence and his brother, Leroy, are farming the place.

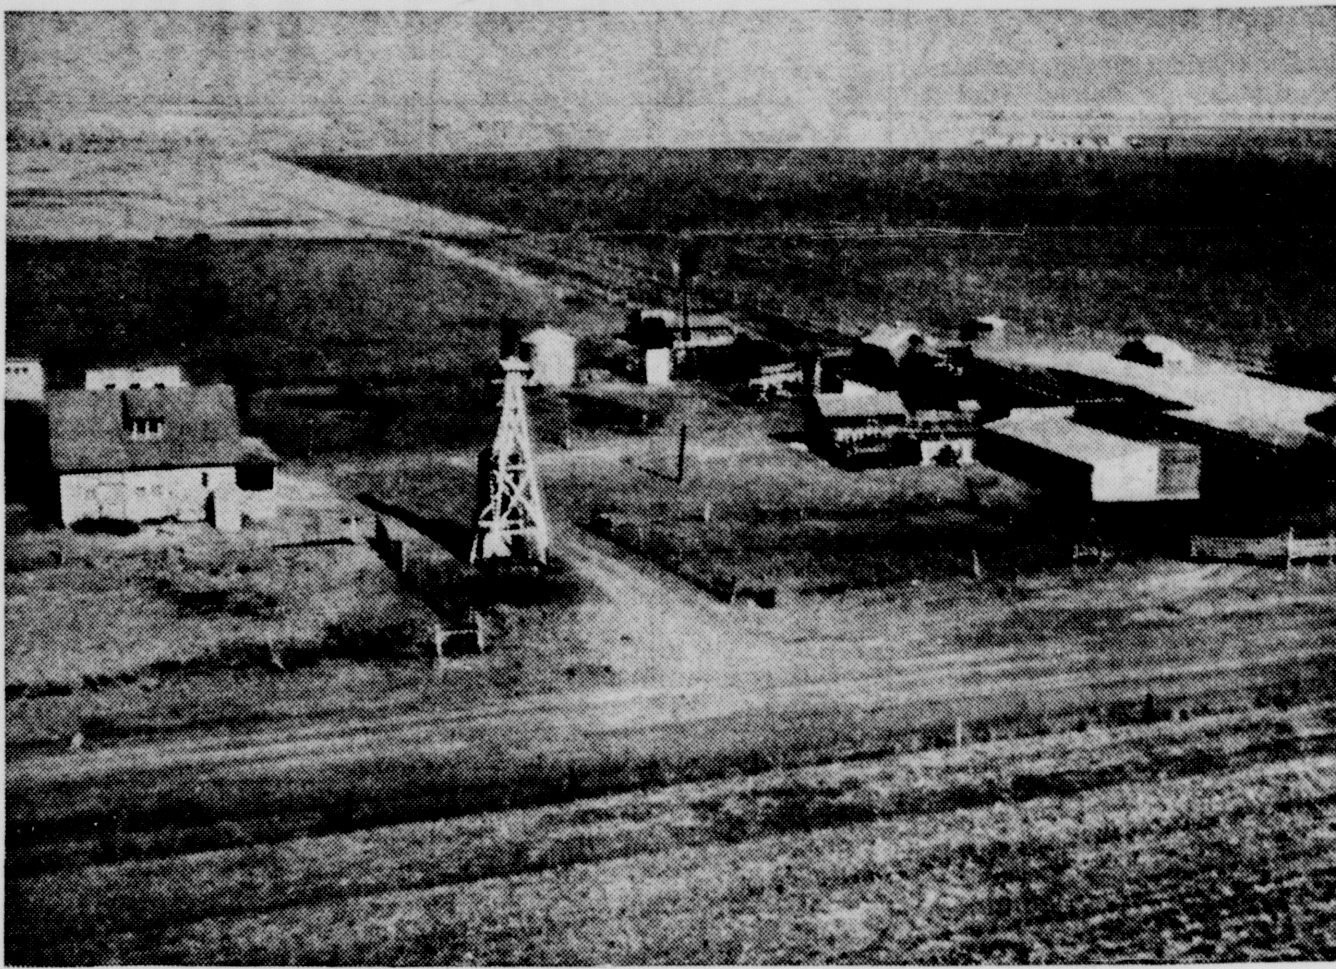

Location of the farm is five miles east and three miles north of town. The farm has been a possession of the Boehning family approximately two generations. Lawrence said he did not know who owned the place before the Boehnings obtained it. He and his brother have been farming the place about 15 years.

General farming is practiced at the Boehning place. The entire farm consists of about 480 acres and the two kinds of crops grown are wheat and grain sorghums. The best money making crop has proven to be grain sorghum because of its consistent production. Lawrence explained the method of tillage as being done by one-way and chiseling.

The Boehnings have Jersey cows on their farm and the livestock feeding program is carried out with silage and mill feeds. The farmers are active in the Farm Bureau. As a pastime, they enjoy picnics, traveling, and camping trips.

Lawrence mentioned one of the favorite crops as being African Millet. He said that he believed in soil conservation, but felt that

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

The Nation's Loss

The nation lost one of its outstanding champions last week in the passing of Congressman Joe Bryson of South Carolina.

Congressman Bryson was one of the first members that I had the honor of meeting when I came to Washington in January 1951. My first impression was that I had met a true southern gentleman and a scholar. As I became better acquainted with Joe my first impression was definitely confirmed and my respect for him grew daily.

Many of you will remember him as the author of the bill to ban liquor and beer advertising from TV and radio. Although his bill had not become law at the time of his passing, his many friends and colleagues will carry on the battle that he so valiantly fought.

Joe Bryson was a clean, wholesome American whose life was dedicated to Christian principles and who practiced daily those beliefs. He had taken an active part in the proceedings in the House of Representatives during the day and had joined some of his colleagues at a dinner honoring some South Carolinians at a local hotel.

Joe was an ardent student of the Bible and was usually called upon for the invocation. He had just finished the invocation when he slumped in his chair and the end came shortly thereafter. His splendid personality, his gracious courtesy, and his tremendous ability will continue to be a monument of strength to those of us who had the good fortune to know Joe Bryson.

An interesting game and Bible quiz with appropriate western pioneer prizes such as old fashioned sugar cookies and apple cider concluded the program.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Gentry.

RELATIVES HONOR MRS. T. C. JENKINS ON 83rd BIRTHDAY

Relatives of Mrs. T. C. Jenkins surprised her with gifts and a bountiful covered dish dinner to celebrate her 83rd birthday at her home, 1911 Third Avenue in Canyon.

E. Counterman, Mrs. Jack Louder, George and Sally Beth, all of Happy; Mrs. Robert Abbott of Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McNeil of Wichita Falls.

Relatives and friends who came a distance to attend the funeral of Miss Sallie McGehee are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Abbot, Denver, Colo.; Mr. and Mrs. G. R. McNeil, Wichita Falls; Miss Annie McSpadden, Mrs. Maud Pitts, and Ed Robertson of Amarillo; Guy Rogers, Wichita Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Max Michael and daughter, Mrs. Katherine Campbell, Amarillo.

under consideration a number of applications to extend local air service to smaller communities all over Texas. This is known as the Texas Local Service Case because all of these applications were consolidated into one case and the matter is being considered by the Board for the purpose of determining which of these proposed segments should be granted and which should be denied.

The portion that is of the greatest interest to the Panhandle is the proposed service from Dallas to Fort Worth, to Wichita Falls, to Vernon, to Childress, to Amarillo, to Borger, and to Pampa. These hearings are deeply involved and consume a tremendous amount of time for examination and hearings.

Right-of-Way Is Complete on Road

The right-of-way was completed with the acceptance by the owner of the land at the six-mile crossing which has been holding up the farm-to-market road, of damages set recently.

The board of arbitration agreed on damages in the amount of $3,397.40. The land owner had asked Randall county for $18,000 to $20,000 damages.

Following the filing of the board's recommendation, both the Commissioners Court and the land owner agreed to accept the decision.

It is expected that bids will be asked by the State Highway Commission on this road within a month or two. The bridge over the Palo Duro will be the most expensive part of the contract. The old bridge was washed out and material in the bridge removed for work in other parts of Precinct 1, according to County Commissioner Pat Baber. The new road will be west of the old bridge crossing on the Palo Duro.

'Young and Fair' Scores BIT Success

"The Young and Fair," a three act comedy drama ended its two night run with a full house at the Branding Iron Theatre Wednesday night. It was a play depicting a girls' junior college near Boston.

A terrific amount of work was done by the cast to put the play over. It was a long show, running more than two hours, and the girls learned their parts during the past month while doing their regular college work.

The girls who had key roles and did an excellent job of performing those roles were Kaye Freeman as Frances Morrill, Carol Evans as Petty Morrill, Jane Gallagher as Sara Cantry, and Betty Robinson as Laura Cantry.

Louise Zybach turned in a convincing performance as the Jewish girl, Lee Barron. The part of the kleptomaniac was played by Betty Jo Mills. Miss Mills as Nancy Gear could be described as wonderful. Martha Thomas did a good job of being Mil Cheever, the best friend of Drucilla Eldridge, the arch villain of the play as portrayed by Joyce Merydith.

Other roles successfully carried out were: Emmy Foster, the maid, played by Margaret Houston; Selma Keeney done by Lynn Gupton; Mary Louise by Ramona Thrasher; Sally as done by Ruby Lee Voorhees; Helen played by Gayle Galley; Gloria by Hazel Howard, and Boots by Peggy Lanham.

Varsity Theatre Robbed Wednesday

The Varsity Theatre was robbed of about $39 in change during Wednesday night.

Entrance was gained through a front door which seems not to have been securely fastened when the employees left the building.

The thieves broke down the door of the ticket window to get at the change which had been left for the next show at the theatre.

Officers were called as soon as the loss was discovered Thursday morning, but it was found that no fingerprints or other clues had been left.

"The Life of Christ," a sound motion picture that will live long in your memory will be presented at the First Methodist Church here in Canyon on April 1, 7:30 p. m. There will be no admission charge for this movie.

In an Austin hotel lobby recently, I saw a man whom I hadn't seen in 15 years. He was Gene Reynolds, now of Houston, for many years head of the investigation department of a big oil company, who was police chief in Ranger during the great oil boom.

He told of one experience after another, such as the time that the owner of the hotel where he was staying tried to buy his diamonds and several large rubies he had obtained in Mexico. But they couldn't agree on a price—and one day the jewels were stolen from his room. The proprietor was very indignant, severely questioned all the hotel employees and had every pillow case and mattress ripped open. "That made the diamonds and rubies cost him fully $25," Reynolds drily concluded.

Reynolds related a dramatic story about a man who was quite wealthy and had all his money in a bank but decided it would be safer if he drew it out, as the boom was subsiding. The bank declined to give him his money so he left but came back in a little while with a shotgun. Probably he was figuring on going hunting! Anyhow, he thrust his passbook under the grilled window and the teller counted out the full amount of the deposit.

The man was carrying a whole armload of paper money, like someone bringing in cordwood, but as he reached the door, one of the officials called out, "What are you going to do with the money? They will kill you for it in broad open daylight; you had better put it back in the bank where it will be safe." The man turned around and re-deposited it. Next morning, the bank failed to open.

Reynolds was short and slender, boyish looking, and was said to be the youngest police chief in the United States at the time. He recalls that he received national publicity and one day three men came into his office. They were prominent citizens comprising a committee that wished him to become chief of police in an oil boom town in Kansas. "How many chiefs have you had since the boom started?" Reynolds asked. "Three" was the reply. "What happened to them?" he asked. A committee member said, "The second one resigned." Reynolds persisted, "What I want to know is, what happened to nos. 1 and 3." The citizen replied, "They were killed."

It seems that being chief of police in a boom town in those days was sorter exciting.

Bassett-Winn Wedding Ceremony Is Read in Joseph A. Hill Chapel Friday

MRS. CECIL M. WINN

In a double ring ceremony solemnized Friday, March 13, in the Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on the campus of West Texas State College, LaNelle Bassett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bassett, became the bride of Cecil M. Winn, Amarillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Winn of Amarillo.

Rev. Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the service before only immediate relatives of the couple. The altar was decorated with coral and pink gladioli, flanked by candelabra holding lighted candles.

Wayne Bassett, brother of the bride, sang "O Promise Me." He was accompanied at the organ by H. R. Fulton, Jr., who also played the traditional wedding and recessional marches.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of chantilly lace over white satin, fashioned with a yoke of illusion net and fitted bodice. Her finger-tip veil of nylon net fell from a tiny fitted hat outlined in white stephanotis. She carried a white Bible, topped with white roses and stephanotis. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Kelley, Jr., were the only attendants.

Mrs. Bassett, mother of the bride, wore a dusty rose crepe dress with beige accessories complemented with a rose corsage.

The reception honoring the couple was held in the farm home of the bride's parents, southwest of Amarillo. The bride's table was laid with a lace cloth, centered with the traditional wedding cake flanked by baskets of pink gladioli. Mrs. Robert Kelley, Mrs. Thomas Winn, and Mrs. Gene Simmons presided at the table. Marcia Ann Kelley, niece of the bridegroom, presided at the bride's book.

For her wedding trip, Mrs. Winn wore a red suit with black accessories. Her corsage was of white roses.

Mrs. Winn was graduated from the West Texas Demonstration High School and West Texas State. Since completing her school work she taught in Carlsbad School System, Carlsbad, New Mexico, and at present she is a teacher in the Forest Hill School in Amarillo.

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

According to the "Chamber Chatter," edited by C-C Manager Glenn Waggoner, a lot of work is yet to be done for this town. The Chamber will continue to work for a city park, try to get the underpass north of town on Highway 87 widened, work for a hotel, sponsor a store front and modernization program. In addition to this the Chamber will work with the Randall County Dairy Association in putting their show on next month. Yes sir, little organization, you have got a busy future.

Charlie Donnell has worn out several slates since losing his voice a short while back. He says there's no pain connected with his loss of voice, only the uncomfortable feeling that comes with having to remain silent.

One day last week Gene Davis read his horoscope and it warned him against borrowing troubles. Said the horoscope, you're going to have enough troubles of your own. He did, his car wouldn't start. He had to have it pushed to the station. It required new points, plugs and a timing adjustment. Final cost to Gene, more than $8 in repairs and labor. Some days it doesn't pay to get out of bed.

Paul Porter, a Democratic party worker, had to swallow a bitter pill last fall when Stevenson lost the election. Prior to the election Porter was shooting a round of golf with a Republican friend. A $4.00 wager was made and Porter lost. When he started to write out the check in payment Porter got the shock of his life because his friend wanted it made out to the Republican campaign fund for Eisenhower-Nixon's campaign.

At first Porter balked but finally gave in and wrote the check. Where he wrote in the amount Porter wrote, "Only four dollars (thank God)." The inevitable gossip got out that Porter had made a contribution to the Republican campaign fund and of course his Democratic friends turned up their noses at him. The Republicans knew the nature of the contribution so they gave Porter the stern-silent treatment.

Recently Porter received a 64 cent refund on the $4.00 contribution because it was deductible from his income taxes. He sat down, pen in hand, and wrote his Republican friend. He explained that he was not going to split the refund with the winner of the bet.

'Said Porter, "I'm a political orphan because of the bet." He went on to explain that he was going to take that 40cent refund and start his own political party. It would not be known as the New Deal, the Fair Deal, nor the Big Deal, but simply The Deal. The interesting question is, "What kind of a deal can you get for 64 cents?"

Gene Hill announced last week that a change had occurred in his Children's Theatre play, "King Midas and the Golden Touch." Glenn Rusk is taking the part of King Midas.

County Clerk Tommy Lair learned recently why banks are happy to finance people to buy TV sets. According to Don Standley of the First National Bank, people who buy TV sets stay home and save more than enough money to make their payments. The moral of this story, although it doesn't make sense, is "You have to spend money to save money."
